

Excellence in Music Award

Justin Fox

Justin is always striving for perfection in his studies and his work. As a student, Justin works diligently and sincerely desires to be the best he can be in all areas. He exhibits high levels of musicality, as well as the perseverance and determination necessary to be successful in all of his classes. Justin is an accomplished saxophonist who has also excelled in the area of music theory. He has served as a music theory tutor for Mitchell through our MIND Center and has been very successful with his students. He is also motivating to those around him and serves as a role model to other students. Justin's Applied Saxophone faculty member Dr. Loboda, said this about him, "Justin is a wonderful student. He is an excellent saxophonist and I cannot wait to see where he takes his playing and passion for learning and teaching."
